Tiflin – Jody's mother; Jody's grandfather – Mrs. The thing had to have a head.

His descriptions and observations are straight forward much like Jody's. In the beginning of the novel, Ruth is both understanding and comforting, sometimes protecting Jody from his father's insensitivity. This is something I experienced myself--even as a female--when I moved out to the country.

When we saw the mountains at last, we cried--allofus. Aside from the missed corner the boar is introduced in "The Leader of the People" as Jody tells Grandfather how Riley was so docile that he used to go for rides on his .
