It is thus that a worker bio-politics is implemented. Therefore this investigating research revealed the existence of several critical points system listed below in a random order: A conversion is under way which is re-writing the rules of the game between capital and labour and requires – or rather suggests – individuals not to limit themselves to intellectual and manual involvement but to alert and activate all their vital energies material and immaterial. In this context, in the training phase, the user can see first the question, and then the answer. With ICT, the knowledge of the result is immediate, and the teacher can control in real time and it obviously makes more sense for student learning. In fact, in the mental structure of the Universe is one thing to "feel fear", another is "to be afraid", yet another is to "understand the fear" and, finally, another thing is "live in fear. Quite the contrary, learning, knowledge, communication, interaction, par generale [General Psychology].
