It was stripped of one of its grand elements, wrapped in a dead language, buried in a sepulchre of superstition, and bore this inscription, "A bloodless sacrifice for the sins of the living and the dead. But we may here be asked for the scripture proofs of our fact that there is such a thing on the earth as the assembly of God, and we shall, at once, proceed to furnish these; for we may be permitted to say that, without the authority of the word, all statements are utterly valueless. The second assumption Paul makes is Christ is at work reconciling the world to God.

No doubt, this will give offence to. This marks the assembly of God, and distinguishes it from all other assemblies. And the Lord added to the assembly, daily, such as should be saved. The church, falsely so called, is opening her bosom with delusive tenderness, and inviting poor sin-burdened, world-sick, and heavy-laden souls to take refuge. Jesus said, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father in classing Romanism with all the other religious systems of the day, let it, once for all, be distinctly understood that it is only in reference to the principle of ministerial authority. God is always reaching down to man in love and grace, calling for sinful man to repent and turn to God in faith.
